☐ New Application

Junior membership in the Society of Exploration Geophysicists (SEG) is open to pre-university students clearly interested in the geosciences. Junior membership is designed to encourage students to become involved and consider a career in geoscience, particularly geophysics. (University students, regardless of their course of study, are NOT eligible for Junior membership and are encouraged to apply for Student membership.)

To be eligible for Junior membership, an applicant must show interest in geoscience by:

- Enrolling in an advanced level geoscience course,
- Volunteering at a museum, educational institution, or other appropriate facility,
- Instructing others in geoscience such as at a camp, Scout program, or
- Some other, similar situation where the applicant's interest in geoscience has been demonstrated.

A recommendation from a teacher, mentor, or professional geoscientist is also required for membership.

Junior members are entitled to:

- Attend the meetings of the Society at student member rates under appropriate supervision,
- Purchase SEG publications on the same terms as Student members, and
- Have electronic access to SEG's services, products, and journals. (Junior members do not receive printed copies of SEG journals.)
